

Pimento / Presentation

Paris - June - 2026

A true story

“A long time ago, I’ve decided to stop drinking alcohol.

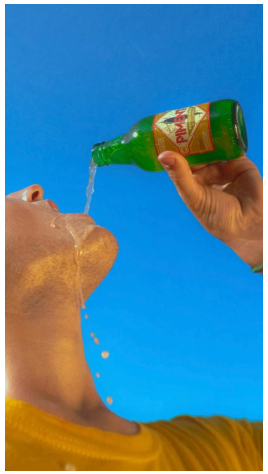

Doing this, all soft-drinks I could find were all boring and tasteless, the reason why I’ve decided to invent a beverage myself that could burn my mouth and my throat both.

The perfect trio of ginger, tonic and chilli pepper came to me one night. I couldn’t believe my taste buds - my glass was filled with an amazing drink which was both sweet and tough at the same time. Soft like a soda, strong like a spirit.

Then I decided later to produce that incredible discovery on a wider scale, first to help people slow down on alcohol.

Also to help them making great cocktails and mocktails.”

Eric Dalsace

Take a sip?

First, the surprise of ginger - full and fruity.

Then, 2 seconds after exactly, the kick of chilli - hot and amazing.

The unique taste and sensation of Pimento.

And if you squeeze a slice of lime in the glass, it will be even better.

What is Pimento?

- Pimento is a French non-alcoholic spicy ginger drink made with ginger, tonic and hot pepper natural flavours.
- The drink contains also small amounts of bitter orange, lime, oregano and gentian natural flavours.
- Low in sugar, very spicy and full of taste, it's a real and daring experience: It produces an amazing kick, it tastes like alcohol but it's not!

How it’s appreciated?

Being probably the strongest spicy ginger ever, Pimento is a gorgeous and refreshing soft drink but also one of the best mixer there is:

- It’s perfect for people who don’t drink alcohol or who think that classic sodas lack any real flavour.
- Bartenders prefer Pimento because its chilli pepper really enhances the flavours of cocktails & mocktails.

On this double market segment, Pimento is definitely the only one.

Also with worldwide food?

Moreover, Pimento is a ready, natural accompaniment for many of the world's foods - perfect with South American, Asian, Scandinavian, Mexican, Indian, Anglo-Saxon, African, Spanish or Middle Eastern cuisines.

Where is Pimento?

Pimento is already in France of course but also imported in Chile, UK, Iceland, Norway, Netherlands, Belgium, Czech Republic, Switzerland, Italy, Croatia, Serbia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Hungary, Albania, Greece, Cyprus, Saudi Arabia, French West Indies (Guadeloupe), Africa (South Africa, Benin, Togo, Ivory Coast & Senegal), and French Polynesia by major companies.

And in France?

Distributed in France by Maison Villevert International Group, Pimento has a good on/off-trade distribution there and is now available in nearly 1,000 French outlets (pubs, restaurants, fine groceries, liquor stores & supermarkets) through plenty of wholesalers and Cash&Carry.

Our position in the retail starts increasing in a growing number of markets worldwide.

Pimento Spicy ginger

VS

Classic Ginger beers

- A refreshing soft drink
- A real kick provided by the chilli pepper
- A mixer that boosts flavours
- A very versatile mixer
- A unique flavour (SKU)

- Definitely not
- Ginger (only) containing a small amount of pepper
- Ginger slightly enhance flavours
- Only for a limited range of spirits
- Large identical ranges

It's clear that Pimento's development goes through an International distribution that currently surfs on the powerful wave of ginger drinks.

And Pimento is certainly the most powerful actor (the only real spicy ginger - that contains a significant amount of chilli pepper) in the world.

Pimento conditioning

6x4x25cl
Mainly for the retail
(off-trade)

2x10x25cl
Mainly for the horeca on-trade)

Pimento labels

Front label

Back label

Possibility to stick a specific back label – during the production only. On request

Eric Dalsace
CEO / Pimento
Cell: +33 6 19 99 24 82
e.dalsace@pimentodrink.com

www.pimentodrink.com

